As a result, the orders of worship Lutheran churches use today are strikingly similar to the ones Roman Catholic churches use. Here's an overview of how worship changed during the Reformation, and why and how the Reformers did it. This post is adapted from Lutheranism 101: Worship by Thomas M.

How Worship Rites Changed during the Reformation

There is no mention of changing the day of worship to the first day of the week. Man does not have the authority to “sanctify” or designate a day to be holy. Only God can do that. And according to Scripture, the only day

Today I want to answer the question which so many listeners have been concerned about since our first broadcast on the Sabbath question. How did the change take place, substituting Sunday for Saturday as the day of worship? This is possibly one of the most disturbing religious questions among thinking Christians today.

Answer: In the year 321 A.D., Constantine decreed, "On the venerable day of the Sun let the magistrates and people residing in cities rest, and let all workshops be closed" (Codex Justinianus lib. 3, tit. 12, 3; trans. in Philip Schaff, History of the Christian Church, Vol. 3, p. 380, note 1).
